

Mr Marius Berman, Cardiothoracic and Transplant Surgeon, Royal Papworth Hospital

Mr Marius Berman is a cardiothoracic and transplant surgeon at Royal Papworth Hospital.

He is the Associate National Clinical Lead for Organ Retrieval – NHSBT and the clinical lead for organ retrieval for Royal Papworth Hospital.

He is passionate about pushing the boundaries in organ retrieval, looking into increase organ optimisation and utilisation. He is a strong believer in team approach, using novel technologies of in-situ or ex-vivo organ perfusion.

Quote for this study day –“I strongly believe that this study day is an excellent opportunity for those interested in organ donation, retrieval and transplantation, to understand the challenges and increase the dialogue leading to better donor optimisation and increase organ utilisation.”