

Supporting your evidence based practice

That is the question!

Yes, we do!
How to access it?

1. Go to ClinicalKey
2. Make sure you have logged into your OpenAthens account
3. Search for the article you need in Clinical Key.

Critical appraisal training:

Are you reading about randomised controlled trials and feeling all at sea?
Are you confounded by calculations of relative and absolute risk?
Are you struggling to interpret the statistics?

If so, critical appraisal training focused on RCTs is for you. During this 1.5 hour workshop you will:

- learn about critical appraisal skills
- learn why they are crucial to the workplace
- and gain practical experience by critically appraising a published article.

You will use a CASP checklist and gain a better understanding of:

- Calculating Relative & Absolute Risk, Risk Reduction, Odds Ratio & NNT
- Understanding P-Values and Confidence Intervals

Date:
31st March, 10-11.30, Royal Papworth Hospital
Location: Royal Papworth Hospital, 1st Floor Admin Area

Library on Wheels

You said: you want to be able to browse our print books.

We did: we bought 3 library trolleys which will be used to create a Library on Wheels. We'll be in the Atrium once a month, the first one being on 25 March. Don't miss it.

We can also bring our Library on Wheels to you! Tailor-made visits to your department meetings, training sessions or events. Just email papworth.library@nhs.net to request a visit.

Thank you for filling in our survey. Your feedback improves our service!
