

Where can I find reading suggestions on the theme of race, culture and diversity?

That is the question!

It can't be easier. Our Race, Culture and Identity reading list is in the ELMS catalogue. The book carousel at the top of the page displays our 16 new titles especially selected to cover a broad range of topics and interests. Click on the 'Find in my Library' button to see the book record and place a hold. It's as easy as that.

There's also a link to this and other reading lists on the top left side box. Click on the list and the books will appear in the carousel.

New year... new training opportunities!

January is the ideal time to book onto one of our training sessions and feel empowered to further your professional or learning goals. Whether you are just about to start a university course or write a paper for publication, there's a session that will help you develop your skills and improve your confidence.

Don't just take our word for it:

'This series of lectures were very helpful. They are pitched at a level suitable for anyone ranging from a novice researcher just starting out, to someone just seeking to fine tune their research and writing skills. Without attending these lectures, I would have never known the full range of services our amazing library has in store for us all. Thank you for everything!'

Focus on ...COVID-19 e-resources

Thinking of those in the frontline and especially those being redeployed, we have compiled a list of FREE to access COVID-19 related resources to support you during this pandemic. Some of the resources will require log in via OpenAthens. You will find:

- Free Cambridge Core article collection
- Books on ECMO and ICU Nursing
- Links to other evidence sources compiled by HEE – includes Guidelines, WHO global research on coronavirus, resources from Royal Colleges and more.

E-books – just click on the book to be redirected and log in with your OpenAthens account

Co-author support

You said: I'm writing up an audit for publication in a journal and I wondered if you would be co-author and conduct the literature searches for the background research.

We did: We developed a search strategy for you and sent it to you for review. We refined the strategy based on your feedback. We ran the search in four databases and de-duplicated the results. We sent you our results and the write up for the search strategy section of the paper.

If you would like co-author level support for the search strategy section of your publication, then please email or phone us.

PapPubs mailing list

Did you know that our amazing staff published over 338 articles in 2020 and still counting? Consultants, Nurses, AHPs, Dietitians, Pharmacists, Health Scientists and more, all producing work of the highest calibre that help advance research and improve healthcare for patients.

Would you like a list of all these publications to arrive straight into your inbox? We produce a quarterly newsletter listing all known publications by Papworth staff. From January this newsletter will be published monthly. If you'd like to be added to our mailing list, please email us.

E-resource of the month

UpToDate, a clinical decision support tool that helps clinicians make the right decisions at the point of care.

- Access to the latest evidence-based information on COVID-19.
- Features more than 9,500 evidence-based, graded recommendations that are reviewed, fact-checked, and graded by a team of more than 6,700 authors, editors, and peer reviewers from around the world.

From inside Royal Papworth: just follow this direct link or the link from our Electronic Resources page.

From outside the hospital site: go to www.uptodate.com and log in using your OpenAthens account. A quick access guide is available here.
